

Inside Bill's Brain

By Davis Guggenheim

From Academy Award-winning director Davis Guggenheim ('An Inconvenient Truth', 'He Named Me Malala') comes 'Inside Bill's Brain: Decoding Bill Gates'. The three-part documentary offers an insight into the mind of the founder of Microsoft. Having stepped down as CEO, Gates now dedicates his time and intellect to solving some of the world's biggest problems. We also learn about the life and career of Gates.

We learn of the significance of the computer club when Gates was in school and he talks about how his brain works, likening it to a CPU. At one point, the documentary compares the complexity of organising a school's class schedule to getting vaccinators across a country with a complex landscape. For Bill, both require problem solving and organisational skills, and the allocation of limited resources.
