By Tom Krawczyk

Featuring Czesława Krawczyk-Miczejko, Duduś the Squirrel,
Kazimierz Miczejko and Louie the Cat

A short documentary that follows a Polish mother with empty nest syndrome as she raises a squirrel.

In the summer of 2020, photographer and director Tom Krawczyk returned home to Chicago from Łódź, Poland, where he was studying film. “When I got there, my mother quietly walked me into a room where she gently pulled a strange, hairless creature out of a shoe box,” he recounts. “It looked as if it had plummeted to earth from another planet.” Meet the star of “My Duduś,” a friendly gray squirrel that tumbled out of its nest when it was only a couple of days old and into the endearing care of the filmmaker’s mother.
